Everly May Leave Ogden High Cadets

With army orders received from Washington to the effect that all officers who were not members of the regular army prior to the world war, will be discharged, the majority of the officers in charge of the various high school cadet detachments throughout the country will be honorably discharged from the service.

Lieutenant Ronald Everly, who has been in charge of the Ogden high school cadets, and who was seriously injured in the world war, in France, will in all probability be honorably discharged during the present month, according to advices received from Washington.

A retired army officer, Major Chase Doster, residing in California, has been named to succeed Lieutenant Everly.

Since coming to the Ogden high school cadet organization on a par with the others of the various schools of the western states. At the encampment of cadets staged at Camp Kearny last summer, the Ogdenites under Lieutenant Everly were highly commended for their military appearance.

Election Dinner at Weber Club Tonight

Election returns will be featured at a dinner to be given at the Weber club this evening, according to Secretary W. V. Rockefeller of the Weber club.

As in past years a celebration will also be staged following the dinner. Special entertaining numbers have been arranged and a record crowd is expected to be on hand to watch the trend of the election.

Pilot Comes Down; Train Takes Mail

Forced to stop at Rock Springs, Wyo., Saturday on account of snowstorms, Pilot Yaker, of the United States air mail service sent his mail by rail and is making preparations to return to the Salt Lake field today.

Pilot Smith, scheduled to fly from Chesapeake to Salt Lake Saturday, but who was detained by storms, was also prevented by weather conditions from taking off yesterday.

Pilot Eaton, flying ship No. 124, arrived from Elko at 2:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon with 250 pounds of mail. He left Elko at 1:37 o'clock.

G. O. P. STAGE ELECTION FETE

Parade, "Clean Sweepers"
Shotgun Squad and Dance
Feature Event

Ogden was furnished with a touch of the old-time noisy pre-election outbreaks last night, when more than 200 enthusiastic Republicans paraded the downtown business section with a band, shotguns, brilliant lights and banners, and with shouts and cheers made apparent the fact that they were confident over the indications of today's election.

The parade formed at Republican headquarters, where colored hats, shotguns and brooms were distributed to the marchers. The brooms were said to indicate a "clean sweep for the Republicans." More than 500 brooms were distributed and at midnight practically every person on the street bound for home carried one of the "sweepers."

Led by the band the parade moved out to Washington avenue at 7:30 o'clock where crowds lined the curbs to witness the fun. Following the band was a squad of thirty men carrying shotguns with their pockets crammed with blank shells, about the parade reached Washington avenue the shotgun squad fired a deafening volley which brought hundreds of persons running from their homes in the downtown districts. Throughout the line of march, the shotguns maintained an almost continuous roar.

Carrying banners, brooms and "sweepers," 200 members of the Young Men's Republican club were in line behind the shotgun squad and they yelled their slogans and cheered as they passed through the streets. The parade made the first stop at the Union depot where a crowd waiting for trains was serenaded and the column about the depot and headed uptown. For many an hour the marchers went back and forth in the business section and then headed up Twenty-fifth street and the Weber academy where a candidate reception and dance was held.

Dancing held away until midnight and the county candidate and with the crowd and became acquainted. Refreshments were served and a brief address was given by Judge D. R. Roberts, candidate for re-election on the judges' ticket. The parade, which was the first held during the campaign attracted hundreds of persons to the downtown district.

Will Repair Roads Near Albers' Mill

Following a survey yesterday by Mayor Frank Francis and members of the board of city commissioners of the road near the Albers Brothers' mill, decision was made to have the driveway improved temporarily by the use of cinders in order that the road may not be used up during the winter. The commissioners conferred with officials of the milling company and other shippers in the vicinity who have reported that the driveways have been in almost impassable condition.

Union avenue was found to be one of the worst stretches in the vicinity and it is probable that paving will be done in the district next spring, it is said.

Woman Gets Divorce; Both Given One Child

Decree of divorce has been granted by Judge A. W. Agge in the district court to Sallie Moore from Thomas Glenn Moore on grounds of non-support. Under a stipulation made between Mr. and Mrs. Moore, the court awarded the custody of the child, Marion, to the mother, and the other child, Garret, to the father. They both agreed to care for the children and educate them.

The couple was married in Tabor, Canada, December 6, 1913.

State School Paper Has Breezy Articles

The current issue of the "Utah Eagle," publication of the Utah state school for the deaf and blind, is just off the press. In the October edition, the magazine carries a number of interesting stories, essays and reports from the students at the school. Those whose articles appear in the issue are as follows:

Gladys McCallan, Zella Pesetto, Randle Christensen, Jessie Newton, Madge Lamb, Mary Elmer, Arthur Hutchison, E. Ross Thurston, Ralph D. Glen, Mary Eyring, Catherine Crawford, Andy Goga, Joseph Robertson, Myrtle Hoek, George Laumie, Lee Hunter, Zelma Lindquist, Heber Christensen, Charles Fowkes, Ethel Fowkes, Alice Tingling, Erma Emerson, Orba Saunders, Mary C. Huntman, George Victor Hansen, Della Harper, Gladys Wentz, Rachael Edwards.

In a number of the articles by the students, considerable originality in handling their material, as well as breezy style of writing their stories is displayed.

Says Wife Deserted Him; Given Divorce

Judge A. E. Pratt of the district court has awarded a decree of divorce to Joseph Chadwick from Mary Chadwick on the grounds of desertion and abandonment. The couple was married in Ogden, October 24, 1903. There are no children.

GLEN E. PLUMB OGDEN SPEAKER

Speaks Under Auspices of the Farmer-Labor Party At
Woodmen Hall

Asserting that the Farmer-Labor party or the cause it represents would materially injure its own interests for the next fifteen or twenty years if Reed Smoot is returned to the United States senate, Glen E. Plumb, author of the Plumb plan for railroad ownership, declared in his address at Woodmen hall last night for the election of Congressman Milton H. Wellington, the Democratic candidate.

"The four most powerful men in the United States are Boies Penrose, Cabot Lodge, Senator Harding and Reed Smoot," said Mr. Plumb. "Those four represent everything that is against government by the mass of the people. They represent government by the special interests. The congress of the United States today is Republican by a majority of two and one of the two is out on bail."

Now then, former President Taft in his good-natured, joking way, let the cat out of the bag a few days ago. He pointed out that there are four justices of the supreme court to be named next year. Balancing the progressive Democrats and Republicans in the senate against the reactionary Democrats and Republicans we have one left over. That one is Reed Smoot.

"It is true that Congressman Wellington voted for the Esch-Cummins bill but I have his personal assurance that he is now convinced he made a grave mistake and is willing to make amends. To you members of the Farmer-Labor party I say register your vote of protest but also vote for Milton H. Wellington for the senate."

The speaker outlined his plan for public control and operation of the railroads.

BOTH PARTIES FILE EXPENSES

Statements of Campaign
Monies Spent Made By County Chairmen.

Both the Republican and Democratic county committees have filed statements of their campaign expenses with the county clerk. The Republican statement contains receipts and disbursements from October 9 to October 30. The receipts are set forth as $1596 and disbursements $1304.75. The statement filed by the Democrats covers the period from October 19 to October 30, and sets forth receipts of $1267 and expenditures of $1012.26.

Royal J. Douglas, Republican candidate for state representative, has filed a statement showing a $10 donation to the campaign fund. R. T. Rhees, Republican candidate also for state representative, has spent $24.75 during the campaign, according to his statement. John C. Brown, candidate for county clerk, has no expenditures, it is shown.

Welling Denounces Story About Harding

Denying that Democrats had circulated the story regarding the alleged ancestry of Senator Harding, and explaining that it had arisen from a bitter fight in the states bordering on the south, Congressman Milton H. Welling addressed the closing rally of the Democrats in the Orpheum theatre last night.

Congressman Welling declared it beyond any Democrat to stoop so low as to spread propaganda of this kind which he termed as a "vile thing."

Governor Simon Bamberger spoke on the league of nations subject and gained applause when he said: "I am a Jew; but when it comes to the league of nations, I'm a Christian."

T. Samuel Browning, president at the meeting, Kinney Brothers and Robbins of Salt Lake made a hit with their campaign songs and instrumental selections.

After replying to the insinuation regarding the attack by Democrats upon Senator Harding, Congressman Welling answered the attack made upon himself in a newspaper advertisement entitled "Who is Reed Smoot?"

He termed the advertisement a Republican move to belittle his services in congress. He then said the man who wrote it was a conscious liar. He added the first congress in which he served was a war congress and only his things were considered. He then presented facts and figures regarding bills he had introduced which became laws and are now on the books.

'Great Redeemer' at the Ogden Theatre Provides Real Western Thrills

It is seldom that motion picture-gauges are afforded so rich and rare a treat as was given the audiences that yesterday filled the Ogden theatre to see "The Great Redeemer," the impressive Maurice Tourneur super-production which began a run of four days. All who attended the showing of this picture came away with something to think about, after having been held spellbound by a powerful and intensely human narrative.

For "The Great Redeemer" is no ordinary photoplay. There is no trace of mediocrity in it. The whole thing is superb. The story has to do with the career of Dan Mallory, a western desperado and "stick-up" man, who is regenerated after a chance encounter with a beautiful young mountain girl. The circumstances of their meeting in a way suggest "The Girl of the Golden West." Dan Mallory, following a foray in which he loots a mail train, seeks shelter from a pursuing posse in the girl's cabin. The latter, alarmed by his sudden entrance wounds Dan with a bullet from her .32. Then in compassion, she binds his wound and hides him from the sheriff.

From the meeting love develops. Dan, inspired by the girl's noble example, is on the point of renouncing his outlaw ways, when an old "pal" appears on the scene and prevails upon Dan to have one more venture as a knight of the mask and six-shooter. They are surrounded by the sheriff's men. Dan is captured and his pal shot dead. Dan is sentenced to prison.

It is while Dan is in the penitentiary that the strange event which completely alters the course of his life takes place. This happening, in the nature of a latter-day miracle, is so startling and without so deeply engrossing that to tell it now in detail would mar the complete pleasure of persons who intend seeing this superb cinematic production.

Suffice to say that it is impressive to the last degree, and registered deeply with yesterday's audiences at the Ogden theatre.

October Breaks Years' Record for Wetness

Last month brought a greater amount of precipitation than any similar month since 1874, with one exception, according to the monthly report issued yesterday by J. Cecil Ailey, in charge of the Salt Lake office of the United States weather bureau.

The precipitation for the month was 3.57 inches. In October, 1889, the moisture totaled 2.85 inches.

The snowfall was unusually heavy for the month just past, 5.61 inches falling during the period. The average temperature was 49.4 degrees, 2.8 degrees under normal. There were only eight clear days during the month. The average number of clear days for past October is sixteen.

Monarch Metal Weather Strips Reduce Cost of Fuel

Many of the most prominent Ogden families have solved the reduction of fuel problem by equipping their doors and windows with Monarch metal weather strips.

These strips are installed by expert mechanics in the employ of licensed contractors.

THERE is a big difference between Calumet and all other Baking Powders.

First—you see it in the cost. Calumet is sold at a moderate price.

Then—you observe it in use. Calumet has more than the usual leavening strength, therefore less is required.

Next—you notice it in raising quality—in the evenness—lightness and texture of your bakings. They look better—finer grained.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Finally—what a difference in the taste. There is a deliciousness, a goodness that can be had in no other manner. Biscuits, pies, cakes, muffins, doughnuts—never were so tasty—so all-satisfying.

And then there is the satisfaction of knowing that Calumet is made in the World's largest, best equipped and cleanest Baking Powder Factories.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Biscuit
Recipe
4 cups of sifted pastry flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 level teaspoon of salt, 2 rounding tablespoons of butter or lard, ½ cup of milk, ¾ cup of water. Then mix in the regular way.
